

Saturday, December 3rd at 2:00 p.m.
JASNA-NY Metropolitan Region Annual "Birthday Meeting"

BEYOND THE SILVER SCREEN:
The National Trust Takes on Jane Austen and the Regency

Saltram House doubling for Norland Park in a film adaptation of Sense and Sensibility

Speaker: SEAN SAWYER, Executive Director of the Royal Oak Foundation

Dr. Sawyer says, "Janeites are familiar with the role that the National Trust properties have played as the settings for numerous films and TV adaptations of JA's work. In my talk I will examine both the direct personal links with Austen at properties such as Saltram and the rich legacy of Regency architecture, decorative arts and history at Trust properties across England, Wales and Northern Ireland. I will also discuss the Trust's attempts to capture its share of Austen's 21st century fanbase in its public programming and educational programs across the UK."

Lavish tea and the Birthday Toast to Jane Austen will follow Dr. Sawyer's presentation

This meeting will be held at The Kimmel Center, 60 Washington Square South in Manhattan.

-----reservation form-----

Name (please print or type) _____

Telephone # _____ Email _____

Please reserve ____ member places @ $35 = $ _____ Name(s) of Guest(s):

____ guest places @ $40= _____

____ Juvenilia places @ $15= _____

Contribution to JASNA programming (Thank you!) _____

TOTAL $ _____

Mail this form & your check to: Diane Mangasarian, 170 West End Avenue #21E, NYC 10023-5442

or

Register and pay via Pay Pal by going to: www.jasnany.org