

Come Dance with Us

... It may be the best way to banish the winter doldrums!

Our own Elizabeth Freedman will teach a three-session class in English Country Dancing just for JASNA-NY members. You can be a beginner or more experienced, Elizabeth will teach dances that Jane Austen knew and enjoyed. No partner necessary--come with or without one. We will change partners often throughout the session. If you have questions about the dance classes, contact Elizabeth (212) 249-0573 or eifreedman@hotmail.com

The three sessions will take place on Thursday evenings: January 22, 29 and February 5. Cost per person will be $30 for the series payable in advance. There will be no single session registration and, due to space limitations, no registrations at the door. If you have registration questions, contact Nili (212) 666-9170 or jasnany@yahoo.com

All sessions will take place at the Pearl Studios 500 Eighth Avenue, between 35 and 36th Streets. These are genuine dance studios with sprung wooden floors and mirror lined walls—very conducive to high stepping. To preserve the floor, you should bring a pair of flat or low heeled shoes that have not been worn out of doors to change into for the class.

To participate, please complete the registration form below and submit it as indicated. The first session on Thursday, January 22 begins at 7:30 p.m. and runs until 9 p.m. We hope that you will take advantage of this special opportunity to learn more about Jane Austen's world while having a really good time!
